

Spring Book

Recommendations (2022)

ENGLISH TITLES

1. How to Grow a Friend (written and illustrated by Sara Gillingham) (Ages: 3 – 5 years)

In How to Grow a Friend, Sara Gillingham uses the metaphor of a garden to teach young children about friendship. She explains what it needs to grow, including patience and care. The lively colors and simple message that friendship is like a flower are sure to delight the young!

2. The Tale of Peter Rabbit (written by Beatrix Potter and illustrated by Alex Vining) (Ages: 3 – 7 years)

The Tale of Peter Rabbit is an old classic by Beatrix Potter. Mrs. Rabbit cautions Peter and his sisters not to wander off into Mr. McGregor's garden. Follow Peter, a naughty boy, in this adventure which, together with the skillful illustrations, will continue to amuse children.

3. Bees (written by Laura Marsh) (Ages: 5 – 8 years)

This National Geographic Kids reader will introduce curious children to the whole world of honeybees. They will learn about their physical characteristics, life in a hive, and the importance of bee pollination for greater ecosystem.

FRENCH TITLES

1. Petit Loup Apprend à Jardiner (written by Orianne Lallemand and illustrated by Éléonore Thuillier) (Ages: 3 – 5 years)

Join P'tit Loup as he learns to garden with his Papa. It's a lot of hard work to care or a garden, and P'tit Loup is excited to harvest what he planted. But he has to be patient and wait for the right time when the crops will be ready!

2. Voici le Printemps (written and illustrated by Maryann Cocca-Leffler and translated by d'Isabelle Montagnier) (Ages: 3 – 6 years)

Spring is finally here! In this fun and informative book, Maryann Cocca-Leffler introduces the young to the signs of spring's arrival: rain showers, singing birds, busy little bugs, gardens, and much more! With its soft but colorful art, Voici le Printemps is a springtime favorite.

3. Devine Combien Je t'Aime (written by Sam McBratney, illustrated by Anita Jeram, and translated by Derek Hockridge) (Ages: 3 – 8 years)

This classic and heartwarming picture book by Sam McBratney and Anita Jeram celebrates the love and affection between parent and child. During a bedtime game, Little Nutbrown Hare and his father Big Nutbrown Hare find all kinds of ways to tell each other how much they love each other.